

:YOUR REQUIREMENTS

We are seeing a dramatic increase in the number of IT systems and applications and of the isolated user administration systems that go along with them. A study by independent auditors found that user data and access rights are stored in as many as 22 different locations.

Companies looking to centralize and optimize the management of digital identities across all of their system landscapes need smart IT solutions today more than ever before.

SAP has discontinued development of its Central User Administration (CUA) which will be gradually replaced with SAP NetWeaver Identity Management. SAP NetWeaver provides the same functionality as CUA while adding new features. REALTECH will assist you through the migration process. Replace your "old" CUA without any data loss. Find out how SAP NetWeaver Identity Management can help you streamline your user management for the benefit of your company.
